RED CROSS ASKS VOLUNTEERS TO REGISTER FOR NURSING

Recent Epidemic Makes the Need of Such Department a Necessity

TO BE AVAILABLE ON CALL

As a result of the recent visit of the influenza epidemic which caused so much trouble and so many deaths in this vicinity, Charleroi may profit by having a department established, under direction of the local Chapter of the Red Cross, to look after volunteer nursing.

During the epidemic one of the hardest features to overcome was the lack of nursing, due to a scarcity of nurses, both professional and volunteer, and it was necessary to scour the country in order to get a sufficient number to meet the wants of the emergency hospital. These were finally secured after a persistent search and but for their efforts it would not have been possible to have made such a record as was established at the local temporary hospital.

Now that the epidemic is over and the "flu" almost banished from the community a movement is under way to establish a register of both professional and volunteer nurses, in order to be ready to meet any emergency that may arise in the future in which t heir services may be needed. To that end all those who desire to offer t heir services, and who are capable are requested to register at the Charleroi Red Cross headquarters, McKean avenue, with Miss Minnie Richardson, the Secretary. The requirement of this registration is, that those so offering shall be ready to answer any call that may come to the Red Cross for the services of one or more nurses. It is not expected that these nurses shall serve without pay; those who are in need of their services and who are able to pay the regular fee will be expected to do so; charity cases will be taken care of, and so will the compensation of the nurses.

In Charleroi there were found many families during the epidemic which could have been cared for at home had it been possible to have secured the services of a nurse, but none being available it was necessary to take such families to the emergency hospital for treatment.

Donora maintains what is known as the Visiting Nurse Association, which has a trained nurse in its employment all the time, and whose duty it is to look after residents of that community who are unable to pay for the services of a nurse. Her duty generally consists in teaching foreign residents the principles of hygiene and sanitation, as well as the care of children. While this is not the purose altogether of the movement in Charleroi, the idea prevailing here is to establish a bureau for the registration of those competent to nurse, and who will be available upon call to give their services for instant duty. The Red Cross hopes to secure quite a number of registrations for this work which it is believed is one of the pressing needs of the community.

WHY LIBERTY BONDS HAVE BEEN SELLING OFF

According to financial gossip in Pittsburg on Friday, thereason for the heavy selling of Liberty Bonds was said to be for account of life insurance companies. It was said that deaths from influenza throughout the country caused larger losses to the insurance companies than fatalities in the war, and that they were compelled to liquidate part of their holdings in order to meet death claims. The insurance companies are said to have been large subscribers for the last two Liberty Loans.

TAXI AND DODGE MEET IN COLLISION

A collision between a car of the Taxi Transportation company in charge of a driver named Hobbs and a Dodge car, driven by Luther Frye of Twilight, occurred about 8:30 Saturday evening in front of the water works on McKean avenue. Both cars were badly damaged, the Dodge car possibly getting the worst of it. Hobbs was only slightly injured, while Frye is reported to have had a couple of ribs broken. Both cars were left where they collided and were not removed until this afternoon.

WAR STAMPS BOOMED AT STREET MEETING

An interesting meeting for the sale of War Savings Stamps was held on Fifth street, in front of the Mail office Saturday evening, which gave quite an impetus to the local campaign. The Slovak band furnished the music, and gave a splendid concert prior to the speaking. This organization has been quite loyal throughout the war, and has always been ready to give their services without remuneration, a fact highly appreciated. The speakers were Rev. Allison, Dr. Hetrick, H. E. Fergus and S. D. Hill.

Memorial Services Were Very Deeply Impressive

A memorial service for the Charleroi soldier, Arden E. Calvert, who died in France, Nov. 5, 1918, was held Sabbath afternoon in the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church. The memorial address was delivered by the pastor, Rev. John R. Burson. Special music was furnished, Miss Emma Clutter singing a solo, while the choir sang two numbers. The university as well as the military form of memorial was used, and the effect was pleasing. Capt. Hein was master of ceremonies and in unison with the Burgess, G. A. R., members of the council, police force, health board and many returned soldiers in uniform, took part in the exercises.

Among the returned soldiers present was Mr. McHugh, who served in the Canadian army and who was seriously wounded.

The Honor Roll was draped and while the pastor recited the poem, "There's a Star of Gold," the gold star on the service flag was illuminated and the effect was most striking. When the roll was called and the name, Arden E. Calvert read and no answer, a bell was tapped in the gallery.

Jacob Wise, representing the G. A. R. spoke of the heroes' death and while all the representative bodies and soldiers stood at salute, the pastor offered a fervent prayer for the bereaved family, the nations and rulers. Many words of commisuration were spoken, and the meeting closed with becoming solemnity.

STATISTICAL CANVASS TO SECURE INFLUENZA RECORD

Will Begin Immediately After Christmas in Charleroi

RESULTS WILL BE IMPORTANT

On Thursday morning a statistical canvass of Charleroi will begin, in order to obtain some data on the recent epidemic of influenza, with a view of securing information which will be of benefit not only to Charleroi, but to the entire country.

On the date mentioned a number of canvassers under direction of the Board of Health and the Red Cross will begin this work, after being provided with the necessary blanks for the purpose, to secure the desired information. The idea is to ascertain the total number of cases, the number afflicted in different families, whether they were inoculated or used the syraying method, and the final disposition of the case. After the canvass has been completed the figures will be compiled, when it will be possible to secure some reliable statistics as to whether the inoculation and spraying methods have been effective in preventing or ameliorating any of the many cases which were reported in the borough.

Not only are the Charleroi organizations interested in this canvass, but a number of medical houses throughout the country as well as the Surgeon General's Department of the United States Army. Charleroi was the only town in the country in which the spraying method was used as a preventive and consequently the figures to be obtained will be of general interest. From the report to be made from this canvass it is hoped to be able to secure such information as to whether the methods of inoculation and spraying have been effective, with a view of recommending such remedies to other communities which may be afflicted in like manner.

Citizens of Charleroi are requested to give courteous treatment and prompt answers to those who are making this cavass, as it is for the benefit of the public at large.

The miscellaneous euchre was well patronized, favors being awarded Mrs. Sarah Rock, Miss Stella Connelly, Mrs. August Cotton, Messrs James O'Brien, John Riley and Fred Kindfuss. The special favors for most games won during the week were awarded Miss Elsie Fiedler and Jack Conway.

The ladies thank all who, in any way, rendered any assistance toward making the affair a success either by their patronage or donations.

IMMIGATION

Because of the likelihood of a tremendous rush to America of immigrants from Germany and other European countries, organized labor throughout this country is urging Congress to place a ban on all immigration for a period of at least two or three years. It is also reported that this proposal is approved by the United States Department of Labor and many other official and private agencies.

In support of this plan it is pointed out that while during the war period immigration has been at a standstill, so soon as transportation facilities are available there will be a strong disposition to flock to this country, not only on the part olf those who would have come but for the war during the past four years, but also by millions of Europeans who desire to escape the heavy burdens of reconstruction work and taxation which will follow the war and which will be particularly burdensome in those countries which are called upon to pay heavy indemnities. Then too, in addition to the apprehension of a flood of foreign immigration which might seriously disturb labor conditions in this country, the question is being asked and asked persistently, as to whether immigrants coming from Germany and other enemy countries are to be allowed admission into the United States and citizenship on the same basis as immigrants coming from neutral countries or from those countries which have been associated with America during the war. The view is also being emphasized that some special measure should be taken with reference to the admission of people from Russia and other countries that have been so disastrously affected by the Bolshevik movement and other similar creeds which are proving so disastrous to all forms of organized government.

It is obvious that, in view of the difficulties above pointed out, and many others which might be readily enumerated, the immigration problem is going to be a very difficult one for Congress to deal with. However, its proper solution is a matter of tremendous importance for the welfare of the country and demands prompt attention.

WIRE CONTROL

Representative Moon chairman of the house postoffice committee, has introduced Postmaster General Burleson's bill, submitted as an administration measure for the continuance of the government control and operation of wires.

The fear that attaches to this government proposal is at least worth congressional consideration. The control of wires raises an issue which is not so strikingly and conspicuously raised in the question of government control and operation of any other utility and therefore the control of wires must be considered from the viewpoint of its peculiar relation to the democracy.

It means in possiblity the control of opinion. It means that a partisan use of the means of transmiting intelligence can be made. It means that suppression of opinion and information is possible and that such suppression can be undertaken by an administration for political effect.

There is no means of transmission of information and intelligence so senitive to covert government interruption and interference as the wire service. It is the wire service which their opinions are based. Upon their opinions are based their political decisions. Upon their political decisions their government and its actions are based.

To [illegible] with the method by [illegible] to [illegible] with the means [illegible] decisions [illegible] wires is in possibility a control of opinion and a control of decisions and a control of government.

The worst seldom happens to the American republic. What is most menacing in a possibility isu sually avoided. But it is not safe to count upon this avoidance. We cannot increase constantly the diease germs in the American system of political being and rely constantly upon the effective work of the white blood corpuscles, the cleansers in the American corporation.

No intelligent democracy weakens its protectives and increases the strength of the attack upon them. This consideration is submitted for the thought of congressmen who will be called upon to deal with the administration proposition to take over the control of the wires.

A government control of the wires needs the safe guards which will insure the fair transmission of news, information and opinion in order that there may not be, in the thousand ways open to a partisan controller of the wires, and interruption of the fair play and transmission of intelligence upon which American decisions are based.

If we go to government control and operation of this utility it must be, for the safety of the United States, upon a basis which insures and guarantees absolute non-interference with the wires for political purposes.

M'KEES ROCKS MAN HAD BEEN SUFFERER

W. Price, well Known Painter and Decorator, was Relieved by Ten-Herbs

No new article of the times has created such profound interest, especially in the larger cities, as has the introduction of Ten-Herbs, the famous stomach remedy. People in all walks of life have been attracted to it: the statesman, the professional man, mechanic, financier, brakeman, society woman, waitress they—all have tested it and permitted the use of their names in telling of it.

Every day people are coming forward with unqualified statements as to the great benefit they have received from the use of Ten Herbs.

Recently the following testimonial was given by Mr W. Price, one of the best known painters and decorators in McKees Rocks who resides at No. 300 Chartiers avenue and has a wide acquaintance in that city. He said:

"For several years past I have been troubled with my stomach; I was bloated with gas, could not digest my food and my limbs were stiff and sore: my liver was sluggish and I felt drowsy and sleepy during the day, but could not sleep at night. I was very nervous and felt completely run down. I was told I had catarrh of the stomach and needed something to build me up. I had tried a number of different medicines but never got anything to relieve me until I began to take your Ten-Herbs. Now I am improved in every way; I sleep well and have a fine appetite. I am glad to endorse Ten-Herbs."

Ten-Herbs cleanses, strengthens and revitalizes the whole system. It clears the blood of poisons and impurities, puts the lazy liver to work regulates the bowels, tones up the digestive organs and strengthens the kidneys.

Ten-Herbs is sold in Charleroi at Henning's Drug Store.

Scrub yourself daily; you are not clean inside. This means clean stomach, bowels, blood, liver. You clean your hands each day—it's more important to cleanse the stomach and bowels. Moral: Take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea—a thoro cleanser—purifier. Hennings Drug Store.

Certainly Your County Isn't Going To Fall Behind

In all Liberty Loans, this county has done its full duty—and more.

When the Red Cross has asked for funds, this county has given all it asked—and more.

In the United War Work Fund campaign just closed, we maintained our splendid record—and bettered it.

In only one form of war fund raising are we laggards—we have not done our duty in our purchase of War Savings Stamps. We are far behind our quota—between now and January 1st next, we must rouse ourselves, dig down into our pocketbooks and make up the deficit or the rest of Pennsylvania, generally a banner W. S. S. state, will be pointing its finger at us and characterizing us not as laggards, not as sluggards, not as being merely purse-bound, but

SLACKERS!

You have made a pledge to buy W. S. S., whether you put it down in black and white for some solicitor or whether you merely made it to your own conscience when you realized the sacrifices of the boys who have laid not merely money on the altars of Liberty, but life and body as well.

Keep that pledge. Liberty stands behind you just as surely, just as literally, as she is pictured standing behind the man in the illustration above.

She asks you to write your check as a loan to Uncle Sam, a loan to be secured by W. S. S., as sound an investment as a Liberty Loan.

She asks you to loan her government (yours and mine, too) your spare dollars at 4 per cent. compound interest, and she even promises to permit you to redeem them at full value whenever you make application at any post-office and give ten days' notice. She asks you this because she not only—

Wants you to help her bring home to their peace time pursuits and their peace time happiness the brave boys from this and other counties who scorned the dangers of the modern battlefield for her (and you and me) but she—

Wants you to uphold the fair name of your country—she knows and breathes and feels the patriotic spirit of local pride that should move you to buy W. S. S. to the limit of your purse.

In the name of the God who gave victory to the right, answer her call—and your county's call—

Write that W. S. S. check NOW!
